Framing the Session

Long ago in a far and distant land, there was an NSDL project and there were some evaluators.......

AND THEY ASKED:

- How are people using the contents and services our library offers?

- How is the collection growing?

- How is our community functioning?

- What is the impact of our library on our intended audience?

- Are we reaching who we intended to reach and do they care?

- And a bunch of other questions....
